PARKER COUNTY VOTERS APPROVE TRANSPORTATION BOND

Results from the Nov. 7 election were a mixed bag, with approval of a transportation bond and the failing of two school district bond propositions. Parker County residents approved a bond amount not to exceed $130 million to be used to improve transportation, including traffic congestion and safety. The bond passed with more than 13,700 in favor, or 58.85%. Parker County Judge Pat Deen said he'd spoken with Weatherford Mayor Paul Paschal and other community leaders following the results. "We're all excited it passed," he said, "and this has brought our community together through the various projects. "When you're growing this fast, it really does take a proactive approach." A good portion of the 32 projects identified within the four precincts will address safety and connectivity, to help alleviate congestion along Interstate 20 as the county and state organizations prepare for the future widening of the major thoroughfare. "If this bond had failed, adding a lane [to I-20] would mean nothing," Deen said. "But it's all fit together like a puzzle. We've got great leaders, and an intelligent, conservative [commissioners] court that's doing all the right things. "I'm really excited about the future of this."

Two other local issues included bond propositions by both Poolville and Springtown ISDs, both of which failed. Poolville ISD came within three votes in Parker County of its $45 million proposition, which would have covered the cost of a new campus for grades PreK through second to alleviate overcrowding at the current elementary. The plans did include future expansion of the new campus to add third, fourth and fifth graders. A little over 50 percent (285) of Parker County voters said no to the bond, compared to 282 voters in favor. The difference in Wise County was more stark, with 77.8%, or 109 voters, against the bond. "Thank you to the many parents, community members and PISD employees who helped identify our school district's facility needs and who volunteered their time and resources to help communicate these needs to our community," the district said in a statement Wednesday morning. "These identified needs will not go away.... they will continue to present our district with both facility and academic challenges as we move forward. With the proven support of our parents and our dedicated staff members, we will continue to provide the traditions, values, and academic achievement our community expects from Poolville ISD." Springtown ISD was seeking voter approval for a $120.78 million proposition to construct a new middle school, convert the intermediate into a fourth elementary campus and create a ninth grade center to encompass an increase in enrollment. Between Wise and Parker County voters, the bond failed with more than 57% against (2,280 votes). Springtown Superintendent Shane Strickland issued an apology Tuesday night to the community for the results.

"We will continue to do what's best for our students and stakeholders," he said in a statement. "The duties and responsibilities that you perform daily for our students will not go unrecognized. Thank you for what you will do tomorrow and for the remainder of the year for our future society!"

DISCLAIMER

APPROVED BY THE TEXAS REAL ESTATE COMMISSION FOR VOLUNTARY USE.

TEXAS LAW REQUIRES ALL REAL ESTATE LICENSEES TO GIVE THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION ABOUT BROKERAGE SERVICES TO PROSPECTIVE BUYERS, TENANTS, SELLERS AND LANDLORDS. (01A TREC NO. OP-K)

INFORMATION ABOUT BROKERAGE SERVICES:

Before working with a real estate broker, you should know that the duties of a broker depend on whom the broker represents. If you are a prospective seller or landlord (owner) or a prospective buyer or tenant (buyer), you should know that the broker who lists the property for sale or lease is the owner's agent. A broker who acts as a subagent represents the owner in cooperation with the listing broker. A broker who acts as a buyer's agent represents the buyer. A broker may act as an intermediary between the parties if the parties consent in writing. A broker can assist you in locating a property, preparing a contract or lease, or obtaining financing without representing you. A broker is obligated by law to treat you honestly.

IF THE BROKER REPRESENTS THE OWNER:

The broker becomes the owner's agent by entering into an agreement with the owner, usually through a written - listing agreement, or by agreeing to act as a subagent by accepting an offer of subagency from the listing broker. A subagent may work in a different real estate office. A listing broker or subagent can assist the buyer but does not represent the buyer and must place the interests of the owner first. The buyer should not tell the owner's agent anything the buyer would not want the owner to know because an owner's agent must disclose to the owner any material information known to the agent.

IF THE BROKER REPRESENTS THE BUYER:

The broker becomes the buyer's agent by entering into an agreement to represent the buyer, usually through a written buyer representation agreement. A buyer's agent can assist the owner but does not represent the owner and must place the interests of the buyer first. The owner should not tell a buyer's agent anything the owner would not want the buyer to know because a buyer's agent must disclose to the buyer any material information known to the agent.

IF THE BROKER ACTS AS AN INTERMEDIARY:

A broker may act as an intermediary between the parties if the broker complies with The Texas Real Estate License Act. The broker must obtain the written consent of each party to the transaction to act as an intermediary. The written consent must state who will pay the broker and, in conspicuous bold or underlined print, set forth the broker's obligations as an intermediary. The broker is required to treat each party honestly and fairly and to comply with The Texas Real Estate License Act. A broker who acts as an intermediary in a transaction:

- (1) shall treat all parties honestly;
- (2) may not disclose that the owner will accept a price less than the asking price unless authorized in writing to do so by the owner; buyer: and
- (3) may not disclose that the buyer will pay a price greater than the price submitted in a written offer unless authorized in writing to do so by the buyer; and
- (4) may not disclose any confidential information or any information that a party specifically instructs the broker in writing not to disclose unless authorized in writing to disclose the information or required to do so by The Texas Real Estate License Act or a court order or if the information materially relates to the condition of the property. With the parties' consent, a broker acting as an intermediary between the parties may appoint a person who is licensed under The Texas Real Estate License Act and associated with the broker to communicate with and carry out instructions of one party and another person who is licensed under that Act and associated with the broker to communicate with and carry out instructions of the other party.

IF YOU CHOOSE TO HAVE A BROKER REPRESENT YOU:

You should enter into a written agreement with the broker that clearly establishes the broker's obligations and your obligations. The agreement should state how and by whom the broker will be paid. You have the right to choose the type of representation, if any, you wish to receive. Your payment of a fee to a broker does not necessarily establish that the broker represents you. If you have any questions regarding the duties and responsibilities of the broker, you should resolve those questions before proceeding.
